Let's Talk About Organizing

We are so excited to launch the More Space More Time quarterly newsletter. Our team has been busy preparing exciting content you can easily implement in your life and home. You will also be the first to know about upcoming events, our exciting new campaigns, and other ways to stay connected.

Always wondered about products? Well we are going to give you an inside look at new and exciting products as well as ones that are tried and true.

This quarter we are excited to focus on back to school routines and a vital area in your home for this season - the pantry. Enjoy the season!

✦ PRODUCT HIGHLIGHT ✦

Turn Tables

Turntables maximize access to underused and hard to reach spaces. Try them in pantry corners, higher shelves and under the sink.

Don't underestimate the functionality of these spinning circles!

Expandable Tiered Risers

Allows items of similar size to stay visible and easy to grab. Tiered risers come in a variety of sizes and materials. They often are expandable and are easy to clean. Designed to maximize space and efficiency. Give cans and smaller items in your pantry a lift!

Drop Front Containers

These versatile bins are not only functional but are inexpensive, fun, and help contain large categories. Try them for kids art supplies, single-use serving ware or even cleaning supplies.

Baskets

Versatile, durable, and stylish - you can't go wrong with beautiful baskets. Provides an elegant solution to categorizing snacks and keeping fruits and vegetables accessible. Variety of label options can complete the look.

PROJECT OF THE SEASON

Divided Bins

Pantries can easily become one of your home's most unorganized areas. Developing an efficient organizational system can help prevent this and we are here to make it a reality! This expansive pantry was a never-ending struggle for our client. She was frustrated and embarrassed. After the initial consult to discover goals and measure the space, our team jumped into action. All contents came out, shelves and floors were cleaned for a fresh start and categories were established. Assessing what you have at this time is always helpful. It might be time to let that expired salad dressing go! We created zones for entertaining, cookbooks, food categories, and other pantry essentials. Creating zones helps keep like items together and if restocking is necessary, you can tell at a glance. We placed more frequently used items in convenient locations and less used items on higher shelves while still keeping them visible. Transferring items into clear airtight canisters and categorized baskets takes up less space while also making the contents visible. Our client loved the look of hyacinth baskets and bamboo so we made her new space esthetically pleasing with these textures. She now enjoys showing off her new space rather than racing to close the door before her company arrives. We have no doubt you will fall in love with your freshly organized pantry!

BEFORE

AFTER

Make your grocery list in your pantry and after you return take out of packaging and decant

TIPS

Use baskets and drop front containers to hold categories and keep them together

Meet The Team!

It is an exciting time as our team is growing to meet the demand of our Yakima area. Shout out to these amazing ladies - Krystina, Lori, Michelle, JoAnne, Heidi, Judy (not pictured)

BACK TO SCHOOL

✎ Transitioning back to the school routine in the fall can be a difficult one for both kids and parents.

✎ Here are a few tips to streamline your family's routine.

✎ Designate area in fridge for after school brain-boosting snacks (granola, cheese sticks, apples, cut up veggies)

✎ Establish a family command center for backpacks, keys, calendar & paperwork

✎ Choose outfits before bed

✎ Have a consistent bedtime

✎ Put devices to "bed" in location such as laundry room or entry way

✎ Clip paperwork to backpacks as a reminder

✎ Make visual schedule for morning routine

✎ Place clocks strategically so kids can track time in the morning

✎ Have a designated home work area

DID YOU KNOW?

Routine can significantly impact a child's cognitive development. Repetitive actions help form neural connections, enabling the brain to process information more efficiently. As children engage in daily activities, they improve their memory, problem-solving abilities, and critical thinking skills.
